

SAG HOLLYWOOD 2011-2012 CONSERVATORY APPLICATION

The SAG Hollywood Conservatory offers an opportunity for SAG members to hone and develop their craft through classes, workshops, lectures and symposia in a supportive and nurturing environment. Participation in the Conservatory is limited to SAG members in good standing (paid thru October 31, 2011). A small administrative fee is required for membership.

Workshops are offered from September through May and include on-camera commercial and theatrical techniques, commercial and theatrical cold-reading techniques, voice-overs, improvisation and "Meet the Casting Director" seminars.

The Hollywood Conservatory is held on the campus of the American Film Institute (AFI) and Conservatory members have opportunities to be cast in AFI student films. This provides a chance for SAG members to gain vital on-camera experience, as well as opportunities to work with young directors, producers and writers as they develop their craft.
