Actor Bio:

Christy Gamble is originally from Muncie, Indiana where she attended school at Ball State University. She is a trained dancer and former competitive collegiate cheerleader. Christy danced professionally for the NFL's Atlanta Falcons before landing her first film role in the FOX box office hit "Drumline" as an A&T Dancer.

After training at Atlanta's Alliance Theater, Christy moved from Atlanta to Los Angeles to further pursue her acting career. She studied in Los Angeles under the tutelage of Ivana Chubbuck, the Beverly Hills Playhouse on-camera class, Bob Garrett-musical theatre, Groundlings and Amy Lyndon's Master Class; to name a few.

Christy's most recent work includes a comedy film, with Cedric the Entertainer making his directorial debut, entitled "Chicago Pulaski Jones". She also has a supporting role in the upcoming Sony Screen Gems feature film "Stomp the Yard 2" as well as the feature film Forgiveness.
