REVIEW, singling out
Karen-Eileen's performance as the
FUNNIEST IN THE FILM!

Actor Bio:

It all started with a Giant Sweet Tart candy and a hairbrush.

At age 7, I decided that both of these things were CLEARLY microphones. I scampered through my tropical (and very humid) abode in South Florida, chatting into mirrors in gibberish--which, I somehow knew was REALLY Spanish. I always created the same "role": a Latina News Broadcaster! (which is especially hilarious since, at least in THIS life, I am a Gringita!) Soon after, I bribed my baby brother to voice radio dramas with me, armed with a massive cassette recorder and the Haunted Mansion SFX record. On breaks from recording sessions, I wrote/illustrated short stories--like "The Million Dollar Candy Bar"--which I asked to have laminated and placed in my elementary school's library. The evidence leans heavily toward the idea that I came onto the planet predisposed to be an actress/writer.

I invite you to visit me on my website (www.Karen-EileenGordon.com), where I'm in the process of loading lots of goodies I ran out of room for on this fabulous site...and my IMDb page, (Karen Gordon II), for a quick way to access my credits.

Truly, thanks for your interest.

Blessings,
Karen-Eileen
